A work of art, through all its components, has a certain system, and the entirety of this system constitutes the inner world of the work . the work system as look , its one how many of elements mutual relationships , functions and their mutual dependence to understand help gives . Artistic work , first next , writer or artist's worldview , art was attitude and to oneself typical style through own expression finds . The work each element in the content (character , plot , language , style , composition) and other elements) each other with connected without , of the work meaning , structure and aesthetic the effect shapes .

Article purpose artistic the work system as analysis to do , its structure , interior integrity and each element mutual their connections deeper It is also an artistic the work system as look not only classic in literature , perhaps modern in art too importance to understand opportunity gives .

Material and Methods

Artistic the work system as analysis in doing literary criticism classic and modern from theories used . Analysis main directions of the following consists of will be :

1. Work structure analysis – work in the content main of elements mutual their connections to determine .
2. Composition and structure analysis to do – work inside changes , plot and of characters development and their systematic expression .
3. Symbolism and semantic approaches – in the work meaning layers and of images mutual dependency .

4. Psychological analysis – characters and their internal of the world systematic formation .

Results

Artistic work system is work structure all elements mutual connected , each other filler and work essence formative integrity is considered . Each artistic work his/her own clear system through to the student or to the viewer any meaning , emotional experience or aesthetic values delivers .

Work structure and composition . Artistic work , own inside taken all parts (plot , characters , language) and using style) one whole the system harvest Composition , work in the content parts known one in order placement and their mutual connections to determine means . Each artistic work composition through his/her own important meanings and aesthetic value creates . The plot development , character change , event stretching and images between mutual connections artistic of the work whole to the system basis will be .

For example , Leo Tolstoy "Anna Karenina" in the novel plot development and of characters mutual connections composition through sorted . Roman between Anna and Karenin at the beginning family problems , then and Anna and Vronsky between passionate relationship the plot organization Every event and action characters internal in the world changes with related is , of the composition system as to work help gives .

Character and their systematic development . Artistic work system each character's role and to develop separately attention gives . Each character to oneself typical visions , goals , internal struggles and other characters with relations work in the system separately place The characters change and development work plot and to the composition directly impact does .

Fyodor Dostoevsky "Criminal " and punishment " (" Crime I in the novel " nakazanie ") Rodion Raskolnikov's character and his/her internal struggles work system central element Raskolnikov 's moral and spiritual his research , his crime to do was main the reasons explanation through work plot , its meaning layers and to oneself typical composition organization finds .

Symbolism and semantics . Artistic work in the system symbolism and semantics separately place Symbols and metaphors work content further deepens and his/her semantic layers Each element has its own expanded to the meaning has is , this through work inside meaning layers to the student is displayed .

For example , Herman Melville "Moby Dick" in the novel white fish (Moby-Dick) symbol only external enemy not , maybe human internal struggles , goals and in mind reflection reached ideas This symbol is mutual dependency and work in the structure role of the novel systematic nature about many thoughts to the surface brings .

Psychological aspects . Artistic of the work systematic analysis in doing psychological attention to aspects as well focus necessary . Characters internal the world analysis to do through of works important parts and their internal experiences seeing Psychological analysis , work inside of characters psychological status , decisions acceptance to do process and mutual in their relationship thin aspects to see help gives .

Example as Sigmund Freud to the theory relied on without , Franz Kafka 's In "Punishment" (" Strafkolonie ") of characters internal experiences analysis to be done possible . In Kafka's work symbolic and psychological of elements mutual relationship , character internal cases through of the work system as how performance shows .

Artistic Systematic Integrity of the Work : Modern Approaches . Modern in literature artistic the work system as look further developed , new in forms own expression is finding . In postmodernism of works structure and plot often unclear and complicated is traditional structures is broken . With this together , modern in the works intertextuality , game , and many meaning layers artistic of the work systematic further enriches .

Modern in literature artistic of the work system as performance example So , Umberto Eco 's "Rosa" ("The name" slang " (really)" seeing exit possible . In this novel historical , religious and philosophical issues between mutual connections to oneself typical in a way to the system included and artistic work not only plot , maybe his/her expanded meanings to the reader through big aesthetic and intellectual experience presented will reach .

Conclusion

Artistic of works systematic nature understanding , not only literature , maybe cinema , music , painting such as other art types also important in learning importance has . Works structure and structural elements , their mutual dependency and system as performance understanding art history to develop service does . So artistically work system his/her each of the contents of the element importance increases them one whole as see and work content further deeper understanding opportunity creates . Works system as study not only in
