INTRODUCTION

The president of the Republic of Uzbekistan Shavkat Miromonovich Mirziyoyev proposed to name the year 2022 in his New Year message to the people of Uzbekistan. He said, “we studied the views of the general public in naming the upcoming year. Based on these proposals, I propose to declare 2022 the Year of Human Dignity and Active Neighborhood in our country. Respect for human dignity means ensuring the rights and freedoms and legitimate interests of everyone living in our country”. In this regard, the mahalla, which is the basis of our society, plays a key role. “In new Uzbekistan, large-scale reforms are being carried out to build a free civil society and a humane democratic state governed by the rule of law. The purpose of these reforms is to promote human dignity, to protect human rights and interests, and to provide social protection.

MATERIALS AND METHODS

During the years of independence, peace, tranquility, solidarity and tolerance have been firmly established in our country. Respect for the elderly, respect for the young, and compassion are deeply ingrained in people's hearts and minds. When it comes to glorifying human dignity, first of all, we see that honoring ourselves as human beings, glorifying human qualities, in short, has brought human dignity to the highest peaks.

The legal framework for the promotion of human dignity, protection of human rights and legitimate interests, and strong social protection is being created and strengthened. These principles are reflected in the Constitution of the Republic of Uzbekistan and adopted laws.

Our people openly demonstrated their will on December 4 in 2016. The president was elected by a person who is able to ensure the development, well-being and prosperity of our country, who can lead the nation and the people to happiness. From this day, a new stage in the history of our state has begun. A vivid example of this is the fact that the year 2022 is called "glorification of human dignity" and as a result, many global changes, problems that concern people are being solved in a short time, and as a result, the glorification of human dignity is the desire of our people. His hopes began to come true.

In order to glorify human dignity, the Ministry of Economic Development and Poverty Reduction, the Ministry of Neighborhood and Family Support and a number of other ministries have been established. Targeted work has been established with the "Iron Book", "Women's Book", "Youth Book". The low-income population has been included in the social assistance system and their participation in the labor market has been expanded. A lot of work is being done to build affordable housing, and the living conditions of the population, especially young families and people in need of housing, are improving.

Today, the society and people's state of New Uzbekistan, where human dignity prevails, is being built on the basis of an important idea, and the results achieved so far to confirm what great achievements and milestones it has achieved. It is worth noting that the indicators that clearly express their names still glorify human dignity in our country. "Respect for human dignity means ensuring the rights and freedoms and legitimate interests of everyone living in our country," the President said.

When it comes to honoring human dignity, not only our contemporaries, but also our country has a lot of time for development government and public figures, scientists and writers who have served, as well as leading scholars in their field.

We know that human dignity depends, first of all, on the peace of our country, mutual respect, kindness and solidarity in the values of our society, family, parents, people, relatives and friends. The solidarity of the people will be the main basis. In view of the above, we should value peaceful days.

There are so many types of human dignity. The most important of these is the peace of the country and the peace of families, which is a symbol of this supreme happiness. To do this, as the head of our state said, it takes self-sacrifice to honor human dignity - to ensure the rights and freedoms, the legitimate interests of everyone living in our country.

It is a great value for everyone to live well and have a good life. They want to live well today, not tomorrow. From the very first days of his presidency, the President aimed to create good conditions for our people to live in peace and tranquility, and the reforms being carried out in our country are aimed at this noble goal. It should be noted that every human being, no matter in which country or on what soil he or she was born, should have rights and freedoms, know his or her duties and responsibilities in that society should be revered and replaced on the ground. Thankfully, we, the Uzbek people, were born in such a country. We live in a country where human dignity is valued. Compared to the old regime, the concept of "human dignity" is becoming more and more ingrained in our minds. Throughout history, human dignity has always been at the forefront of our nation. His honor and dignity have risen to great heights. If we look at European countries, at a time when slavery, racism and stratification are on the rise in the West, the Uzbek people have always been kind and caring. It is important to note that the protection of human rights and the promotion of human dignity is not a new concept for our nation, but a part of our values. At the same time, in addition to the concept of human dignity, it should be noted that human dignity is a combination of both religious and secular views.

Going back to the present, bold steps have been taken to build a new Uzbekistan and strengthen its foundations. Uzbekistan's international position has grown even more. The mentality of our compatriots has changed, and the wishes, dreams and hopes of our people to glorify human dignity have come true and left a bright mark on our lives.

The words of the head of our state in his congratulatory message to our people are remarkable: "Our large-scale reforms in our country have become stable. In order to further develop them, we have developed a New Uzbekistan Development Strategy. We are the world, the world must be open to us. This is the demand of today's life, of today's progress. We will make this crucial principle the rule of our lives." Today, we see the confirmation of these words in practice in every sphere. We have entered another period of revival, and we are convinced that Uzbekistan is a great country with great human dignity, rights and freedoms.

There is a lot of work being done in our country to promote human dignity. One of them is the granting of citizenship to more than 19,000 people in the last three years, as well as about 50,000 people who came to Uzbekistan at the same time until 1995 and have lived there ever since. The fact that such good deeds continue today is a vivid example of the growing respect for human dignity in our country.

CONCLUSION

As conclusion, I would like to emphasize once again that the President of Uzbekistan Shavkat Miromonovich Mirziyoyev has declared 2022 the Year of Human Dignity and Active Neighborhood. is evidence of priority. From the point of view of respect for human dignity and protection of human rights is a continuous process, it should be noted that in the construction of a new Uzbekistan, our country has set important tasks and goals for the coming years. And each of us has a responsibility to make it happen. Because our solidarity and solidarity are important for the future and development of our country.
